

YOUR WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

13-19 September, 2021

ARIES RISING

Your ruler, Mars changes signs this week, Aries, making it an important week for you. For the next two months, your relationships are going to be where most of your energy goes to, but be sure not to put your own needs aside completely.

TAURUS RISING

Mars, planet of desire, heads into your professional and lifestyle zone for the next couple of weeks, bringing in an urge to get your life into balance - which includes your health. Make sure that you're dividing your time equally when it comes to work and play, Taurus.

GEMINI RISING

Get ready for some fun times ahead. Gemini, as energetic Mars enters your romance, sensuality and creativity zone. You're in the mood to flirt and be playful, regardless of your relationship status. Just make sure it's not crossing a line.

CANCER RISING

It's a potentially empowering week for you, Cancer, as the Sun and Pluto align. This helps to break open opportunities for big conversations and negotiations. Talking honestly will create a stronger bond, so be sure to state your truth without fear.

LEO RISING

Your ruler, the Sun, is up to all kinds of things this week, Leo! Firstly, there's a chance that you may feel a little off your usual mark, and it's possible that you could be overly influenced and taken advantage of, especially financially. Stand in your power and don't allow anyone else to have the control.

VIRGO RISING

The Sun and Neptune meet in an opposition in your sign this week, Virgo, which can bring a problem with boundaries in a close relationship. Be aware that you could be getting exploited for your kind heart, and it's up to you to learn to say no.

LIBRA RISING

Sexy Mars heads into your sign of the next few months, Libra, bringing a dynamic, go-getting type of energy. You're firing on all cylinders, yet the problem is that you're not quite sure where you're going yet. Make a decision and follow through.

SCORPIO RISING

Your modern ruler, Pluto, receives a boosting trine from the Sun today. This can bring you powerful new goals, a vision for the future and help from friends to get out there. Just make sure that you have good boundaries with said friends, Scorpio.

SAGITTARIUS RISING

You may feel very enthusiastic about the path ahead with Mars's move into Libra this week. Yet at the same time, Sagittarius, it's essential that you know where you're headed and don't scatter your energy too much. Also be aware of rising tension in your social circle, and don't give into drama.

CAPRICORN RISING

You have all the power at the moment (again), Capricorn. The universe is pushing you forward, and you're feeling as if you can accomplish anything - and you can. This is the ideal time to step into a mentorship role.

AQUARIUS RISING

Mars heads into a compatible air sign this week, making it easy for you to go after and achieve your goals. These goals seem to especially apply to your travel and education area, where you can receive a pleasant boost of energy.

Boundaries, Pisces. This is your life lesson, and it's even more important during this week, as Neptune, your modern ruler, opposes the Sun in your relationship zone. It could be you that's crossing over others' boundaries, so don't hesitate to apologize and make changes if you need to.

PISCES RISING

