

YOUR WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

15 -21 August, 2022

ARIES RISING

This is an important week for you, as your ruler, Mars, changes signs. He enters Gemini, where he's set to stay for several months, activating your communication, travel and studying/coaching zone. You're going to be looking forward to some busy times ahead, so get ready to rumble!

You have the power of communication at your fingertips this week, as Mercury links to Uranus in your sign. Innovative ideas and solutions are your forte at the moment, and you don't seem to be afraid to speak your mind, as shocking as that may be. Go, you.

TAURUS RISING

GEMINI RISING

Yay - Mercury, your ruler, is active again this week with a strong link to Uranus. This is often called the 'genius' aspect, and may help to give you some fresh new ideas to old problems, especially if they're problems relating to home and family.

You may be bowled over by how strong the communication seems to be at the moment when it comes to friends and family. You may also experience others opening up to you and sharing their private problems. Trust that you have the empathy to hold a very safe space.

CANCER RISING

LEO RISING

It looks like you're the one coming up with fancy new plans and ideas for the future, and perhaps even around money. You also have the fantastic alignment of Venus and Jupiter, making life feel extremely pleasurable for you right now. Yum!

VIRGO RISING

Be careful of what you believe at the moment. What people say versus what they do, may be very different things. In fact, you may feel quite deceived and taken advantage of, so it's up to you to have good boundaries and learn to say 'no'.

LIBRA RISING

Your ruler, Venus, is behaving beautifully this week. She links via a trine aspect to planet Jupiter, creating the opportunity for harmony, love and connection. This is especially apparent in your social and love life, where things seem to be popping off!

SCORPIO RISING

Your ancient ruler, Mars, is heading into a new sign as from this week. He's going to be living in your money-shared zone for quite some time, possibly stirring up conflict with finances or even intimacy. Be prepared for many, many discussions.

SAGITTARIUS RISING

The planet of lust, passion and action moves into your relationships zone as from this week onwards. This can activate your love life in a big way, both for good and for bad. It certainly adds that extra layer of chemistry, but it can also be a little tense.

CAPRICORN RISING

You have so much power this week. What do you plan to do with it? Well, firstly, don't give it away. Secondly, don't take it from others. Thirdly, enjoy the sensual passion and chemistry coming for you! It's going to be delicious.

AQUARIUS RISING

Your love and creative world are set to get a very long-term boost over these next couple of months as Mars heads into this sector. Passion and romance seem topmost on your mind, as well as fun, stimulating projects that get your blood flowing.

PISCES RISING

From today, you may experience some extra tension in the home and family environment. Plus, you're probably not quite sure how you want to communicate things, which makes it even more tricky. For now, keep your thoughts to yourself.